To whom it may concern:

This letter is being written for the purpose of recommending Gregg Seaholm, The Town Builder, for further work in general contracting.

My husband and I contracted with Mr. Seaholm for the purpose of completely remodeling and renovating our condominium in Coronado, CA. Our relationship began in March of 2017 when we met to discuss the upcoming work.

Every interaction we have had with Mr. Seaholm was positive, professional and rewarding. His work is nothing less than excellent in every capacity. From the subcontractors he hires to the work that he did himself the finished product was perfect. I should note that we live in the Midwest and our home in Coronado is a vacation home. Because we often were not in town we relied heavily on Mr. Seaholm for up to date communication and photos. He is an extremely good communicator with sensitivity to our needs, desires and budget. We received weekly, if not daily updates from him and spoke often on the phone with him.

His work was done in a timely manner and the finished job was completed with our needs in mind. The work was done in a way that was totally complete. Mr. Seaholm takes great pride in his work and has passion for what he does and that pride of workmanship is evident in the large job he did for us.

We appreciate his knowledge of the construction business and trust his opinion very much. He is understanding, kind and of good humor.

My husband and I stand behind Mr. Seaholm and highly, highly recommend him for anyone needing his work and wisdom.

Sincerely,

Kris and Doug Strawbridge
